And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

Absentee voting is now underway for the Democratic Second Primary and there are two races on the ballot for our precinct. The first of course is for governor with Preston Smith facing Don Yarborough and the second is for commissioner with Johnnie Agnew facing Burnia Reid.

Both of these races are important and it is a must that at least everyone who voted in the last primary vote again in this primary.

We were glad to see the County Convention going on record in favor of Smith for governor. While we endorsed Dolph Briscoe in the first primary, we felt at the time that Smith and Yarborough would meet in the runoff.

Conservative forces have been in control of Texas politics for as long as we can remember and have given us progressive state government without a burdening debt. The liberal forces in the state have tried for years to get control, without success, by promising everything — more and more state services and less taxes. Like the federal government, the only way a state can do this is by going into debt and we do not believe that taxpayers are interested in this.

While Yarborough has tried to deny that he is a liberal, his backing and his statements prove otherwise.

The big problem this year will be getting Smith's supporters to the polls June 1. You can rest assured that Yarborough will poll as many or more votes in the second primary as he did in the first.

On the face of it, Smith should have an easy time considering that he should get nearly all of the voters that supported other candidates in the first go-round. But as we say, the problem will be getting the voters out.

If Yarborough should win June 1 it will turn the control of state politics over to the two Yarboroughs and could mean the end of sound state government as we know it. It is the thinking of men like these two that has gotten our federal government in the shape it is in.

As to who can vote in the second primary — anyone who is a registered voter and did not vote or take part in either the Republican or American Party primaries can vote June 1. It does not matter if you did not vote in the May 4 election.

While on the subject of politics, we papers this past week that surpassed even the wildest claims made in an effort to sway voters.

The city of Graham will vote on a City Sales Tax and the ad warned voters that a Sales Tax would cost the poor and the pensioners from $150 to $500 a year. If this is the case we would like to be considered poor or on a pension in Graham.

For if you take all of your income and spend it on taxable items you would have to spend between $50,000 to $500,000 a year to pay $150 to $500 in taxes.

Last week was our week to have trouble with pictures. We had 14 pictures get delayed in the mail and not show up until the day after we printed. This started our troubles and then they just seemed to mushroom.

Luckily we discovered on Wednesday that our pictures had not made it up to Monday and were able to come up with substitutes for most of them. Some of the individual pictures and the pictures of the class officers were clipped out of the annual.

Then to add to the confusion, we managed to get the picture of the Camp Fire Girls in backwards so that the names read right to left instead of left to right. We also missed the enlargement of the picture of the new Winn's Store and it came out smaller than we had intended.

Because of the delayed pictures we are running the Cub and Scout Fair pictures this week instead of last week as we had intended.

Sometimes you just have weeks like that in spite of everything.

Work to Start Soon On Local Cable TV Service

Work is expected to start soon on cable television service for Hamlin, according to Floyd Shelton of Cable Electronics of Hamlin. Construction plans for the local service are about complete and it is expected that the service will be ready within 60 to 90 days from the start of construction.

Mr. Shelton said that the installation will be completely underground and will not clutter Hamlin with more unsightly poles or overhead wires.

In explaining the cable television service, Mr. Shelton said that it improves the clarity of TV pictures and will increase the number of channels and services available. With the service, rooftop antennas will not be needed. He also pointed out that the system would not affect regular reception for those who do not use the service.

The service will offer five channels, FM stations and 24-hour time and weather service with FM music.

Details of the service are included in an advertisement appearing in this issue of the Herald, including channels that will be available and costs.

Veterans of Foreign Wars volunteers will sell Buddy Poppies here Saturday, according to Hoss Cox, commander of V. F. W. Post 6014. In making the announcement, Mr. Cox urged everyone to wear their Poppy on Memorial Day, May 30.

In urging the wearing of the poppies on Memorial Day, Mr. Cox said that it is a symbol of respect and appreciation for the men who have given their lives and health in the service of their country.

Hamlin Mayor Hollis Madden gives his whole-hearted support to the Buddy Poppy campaign and said, "The wonderful things that the V. F. W. is doing with the proceeds from the annual Buddy Poppy Sale more than warrant a generous contribution from each member of this community. The prompt help given to our disabled and needy veterans, the magnificent care given the orphans, and widows of our honored war dead, the fostering of true Americanism — these are some of the highly commendable things being done by the V. F. W. through our unselfish support of the Buddy Poppy Sale."

Veterans organizations in the United States first sold Poppies in 1921 in response to an appeal from Madame Guerin of France for funds to aid needy and disabled war veterans.

More than 8,000 Posts will participate in the Poppy Sale. Funds derived from the sale must be used exclusively for welfare of disabled and needy veterans, and the widows and orphans of deceased veterans.

Annual Spring Acreage Survey Underway In Area

Specifically selected farmers in Jones County will find a very important document in their mailboxes in the next few days, according to Kirby Clayton, County Agricultural Agent.

It's the annual spring Acreage Survey of the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, a cooperative effort of USDA's Statistical Reporting Service and the Texas State Department of Agriculture.

Carey D. Palmer, agricultural statistician in charge, said that forms will be mailed to Jones County from Austin on May 29th.

Crop reports for more than 100 years have been important aids to farmers in planning their production and marketing activities, Clayton said. By responding promptly to the questionnaire, farmers can increase the accuracy of our next crop report and make it even more valuable to them, he added.

Statewide, data are collected primarily from voluntary reporters, including 40,000 farmers and ranchmen, 6,000 agricultural businesses and 250 county agricultural agents.

Up to 25 percent of the producers in Jones County, generally the larger operators, will receive the Acreage Survey form, Clayton said.

Jones County Oil, Gas Wells Add $10.8 Million to Area Economy

Oil and gas wells provide approximately $10.8 million a year of Jones County's economic output, according to statistics released this week by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

Based on most recent U. S. Bureau of Mines production figures, the Association compilation showed that Jones County produced crude oil valued at $10.6 million in 1966 and natural gas worth $200,000.

Texas oil production in 1967, responding to demands for more domestic crude as a result of the Israeli-Arab conflict, totaled 1,050,000,000 barrels, a statewide increase over 1966 of about 5 percent. Production last year varied widely among state Railroad Commission districts, however, ranging from 3.5 percent below 1966 to 15 percent above.

"Production from Jones County last summer helped prevent any oil scarcity for U. S. consumers at a time when one-third of the world's supply was cut off," said Corbin J. Robertson, Houston, Association president. "We must keep in mind, however, that it may be difficult for Texas fields to sustain production in future emergencies if the discovery of new reserves continues to lag, due to lack of exploratory drilling."

The annual study showed that Jones County ranked 90th among Texas counties in total value of its production of some 3.6 million barrels of oil and 1.7 billion cubic feet of natural gas.

Texas oil men, according to Rinehart's yearbook, drilled 87 wells in the county risking some $1.6 million. Sixty percent of them were dry holes, costing about $837,000. County landowners and others with mineral interests cashed royalty checks totaling about $1.4 million during the year. Likewise, the county's flow of oil and gas generates $503,000 a year in production taxes paid by producers and royalty owners to the state treasury.

Reports from the Texas Employment Commission show some 155 persons directly employed by the oil and gas industry in the county, with an annual payroll of $667,000.

Plants which convert crude oil and natural gas into useful products also add to the value of a county's output. The Oil and Gas Journal lists 1 refinery and 2 gas processing plants, with a total capacity of 21 million cubic feet a day for the county.

THE PIED PIPER OF HAMLIN — The Pied Piper will be a permanent part of the new high school building. The emblem of the Hamlin High School mascot is made of terrazzo set in the floor in the entrance of the building. It measures some six feet in diameter. Polishing of the emblem was completed Monday.

Hill, left, and Janet Carson, also seniors. The girls visited with friends during the reception which was held in the Fellowship Hall.

G.E.D. Testing Center Approved In Abilene

The Abilene Independent School District has been approved by the American Council on Education and the Texas Education Agency as an official G. E. D. Testing Center as of June 1, according to Supt. A. E. Wells of Abilene.

Connor Robinson, Coordinator of Adult Education, will serve as Chief Examiner. "The General Educational Development Test was developed in 1945 because many students were forced to leave school during World War II to serve in the armed forces. This gave veterans, whose education had been interrupted, a chance to receive the equivalent of a high school diploma," Wells said.

"Since more than 62 million men and women over 25 years of age are without a high school education, this medium will serve to upgrade those who desire a broader educational background. Every state in the union now awards the High School Equivalency Certificate. High school certificates issued for satisfactory achievement on the G. E. D. tests are as widely accepted as regular diplomas by business, industry, and civil service commissions.

"More and more, higher educational institutions are admitting adults whose G. E. D. test scores are consistent with their usual admission requirements for high school graduation," he said.

The G. E. D. tests will be administered periodically as demand dictates. The first test is scheduled for 8:00 a.m., June 4, at the Lamar Elementary School, N. 8th and Hickory Streets. Adults, 19 years of age, or older, are eligible to take the tests which includes individual tests in English grammar, social studies, science, interpretation of literature, and math. A fee of $10 will be charged for the test.

Those desiring further information concerning the G. E. D. testing program should contact Robinson at the administration Building of the Abilene Public Schools.

Fun-wear ...

One fashion expert sees the look for summer as "soft," with a rising tempo of interest in the whole separates concept. Says he:

"Shirts, skirts and shirt dresses, marked by a sheer and soft look, will provide most of the excitement in summer sportswear. Another significant look, I feel, will be one which is very American — cool, crisp and clean-lined."

The sportswear executive of another store feels the body shirt in its various forms will trigger summer interest in other separates.

"Shirts look tremendous for spring," he said.

More than 15% of the drivers involved in fatal accidents in 1967 were women.

AUSTIN — State legislators will return to Austin on June 4. This time to complete the budget-writing chore they put off last year — and to pass a new $125,000,000 tax bill.

Indications are strong that the bulk of the funds will come through the sales tax route.

Gov. John Connally told reporters he is "fairly certain" he will suggest raising the two per cent sales tax rate to three per cent, then refund the increase to the cities on their 1960 populations. This would replace the present local option city sales levies adopted by 267 cities since last September.

Proposal would provide incorporated cities with $125,000,000 a year overall in state aid. State would gain $35,000,000 to $40,000,000 from the increased rate due to sales in unincorporated areas.

Other recommendations expected in Connally's sales tax package include: removing of some sales tax exemptions; taxing of services like laundry and haircuts; and increasing the auto sales tax rate to three per cent.

Governor also stated he might suggest a liquor-by-the-drink bill as part of his tax program. Legislative sources say he will suggest local option authority to sell liquor in small, one-drink-size bottles under stiff state tax and strict regulation.

Connally told reporters that overall revision of the liquor laws also may be proposed. He intends to submit no other business until financial necessities are handled.

He expressed confidence that the budget and tax bill can be passed within the 30-day limit.

If lawmakers vote the same way their constituents did on the liquor-by-the-drink referendum (May 4) the governor may have a chance with the small bottles bill. At least 82 of the 150 state representatives and 17 of the 31 senators live in districts which voted for mixed drinks, with varying enthusiasm.

COURTS SPEAK — Texas law banning mass picketing in labor disputes withstood another State Supreme Court test when lower court rulings in favor of the statute were affirmed. High court agreed with intermediate Fourth Court of Civil Appeals, however, that the display of Mexican strike banners in a Laredo dispute should not be enjoined.

Question of whether voter registration applications must be submitted individually has been taken to the Texas Supreme Court.

High court said Texas statute which allows unlimited damages to survivors cannot be applied to fatal accidents involving Texans in other states.

An Abilene man should get a full trial on his $185,000 malpractice suit against two doctors, Supreme Court held.

Court of Civil Appeals affirmed a district court decision denying a $98,626 sales tax refund to a New York firm which claimed it received notice of deficiency more than three years after the date taxes were due.

SPEIR HEADS DPS — Texas Public Safety Commission officially designated one time high school principal Wilson E. (Pat) Speir as acting director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Speir succeeds the late Col. Homer Garrison Jr. who headed the DPS for nearly 30 years. He had been Garrison's top assistant for six years.

Speir is a veteran of more than a quarter century of service with the state police. He was born and attended schools at Gilmer, graduated at East Texas State College in Commerce and was principal of Harmony High School for a year.

PARK SITES ADDED — Parks and Wildlife Commission has accepted 85 acres of land containing four early military posts which played important roles in the development of Texas.

Sites include Fort Leaton near Presidio, Fort McKavett near Menard, Fort Lancaster near Ozona and Fort Richardson near Jacksboro.

PWC Chairman Will Odom says the sites will be added to the state park system and facilities will be restored and preserved as an historical heritage for future Texans.

Odom also announced that a $14,275 federal grant has been approved for development of recreational facilities at Fort Griffin State Park 15 miles north of Albany. PWC will match the federal grant for a 503-acre park.

POLICE TRAINING House Speaker Ben Barnes says he will ask Governor Connally to include in the special legislative session a bill to create a statewide police training school to be called the "Homer Garrison Jr. Law Enforcement Academy."

Barnes believes the school is needed and "would be a fitting memorial to the late Homer Garrison who did so much to build a fine state police system."

ALLOWABLE REDUCED AGAIN — Texas Railroad Commission slashed the statewide oil allowable for the third month in a row.

June factor was set at 45.2 per cent of potential, permitting top production of 3,485,366 barrels a day. This compares with 3,512,874 barrels during May when 45.7 per cent market demand factor applied.

Major crude oil buyers submitted written nominations to purchase 3,025,126 barrels a day during June, a decrease of 46,143 from May. This was slightly more than forecast for June demand as submitted by the Bureau of Mines.

CANDIDATE TALK — Runoff campaign between Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and Don Yarborough is warming: Smith boasts of his long service and slams at Yarborough's liberal record. Yarborough counters he offers new leadership and specific, progressive programs. Voters still show little interest.

CAMPAIGN COSTS — Top spenders in the governor's race, Dolph Briscoe ($696,179) and Eugene Lock ($678,063) finished fourth and fifth. Leading candidate Yarborough reported he spent only $162, 854. Runner-up Smith reported spending $385,537.

SHORT SNORTS Railroad Commission placed a production limit in the East Texas field on an old order permitting transfer of oil from one well to another.

Some 3,866 Texas anglers were cited last year for failure to have a $2.15 fishing license, reports the Parks and Wildlife Department, and were subject to fines ranging from $10 to $100.

State Securities Board issued permits to 74 corporations to sell $105,800,000 worth of securities last month — a gain of $61,000,000 over April, 1967.

Texas streamflow varied from deficient in West Texas to excessive in East Texas during April, according to the Water Control Board.

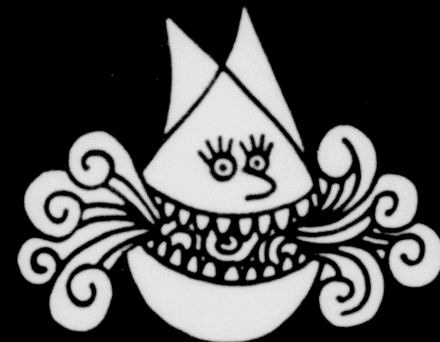

About 90% of U.S. cotton is mechanically harvested.

THANK YOU!

I wish to express my appreciation to the people of Jones County for each courtesy, each word spoken in my behalf and the support I received in my campaign for the office of Tax Assessor-Collector. Even though I did not win the race, I feel my life has been enriched by the faithfulness of my old friends and the support of the new ones I have made. Please accept this as a personal "Thanks" to each of you.

Cattlemen Urged To Learn Feeder Steer Grades

All cattlemen, whether large or small operators, should familiarize themselves with the new United States Department of Agriculture feeder steer grades, advises County Agent Kirby Clayton.

The rapid growth of commercial feed lots in Texas means increasing opportunities for producers to market their calves direct to the feeder. In order to bargain effectively, cattlemen must understand how to grade feeder animals, he adds.

Due to pride of ownership, most ranchers over-estimate the grade of their own calves. Ranchers then feel they are being "shortchanged" on prices received at the market. Cattlemen should learn official standards of grading and how to use them, Clayton says.

Grade names are the same as the slaughter cattle and beef carcass grades. These help predict the feeders' potential slaughter grades.

Official written standards and pictures containing requirements for each grade can be obtained from the Livestock Division, Consumer and Marketing Service, USDA, Washington, D. C. 20250.

Plants which convert crude oil and natural gas into useful products also add to the value of a county's output. The Oil and Gas Journal lists three gas processing plants, with a total capacity of 16 million cubic feet a day employed by the oil and gas industry in the county, with an annual payroll of $336,000.

County landowners and others with mineral interests cashed royalty checks totaling about $2.3 million during the year. Likewise, the county's flow of oil and gas generates $864,000 a year in production taxes paid by producers and royalty owners to the state treasury.

Oil, Gas Gives $18.2 Million Annual Boost to Fisher County's Economy

Oil and gas wells provide approximately $18.2 million a year of Fisher County's economic output, according to statistics released this week by Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

Based on most recent U. S. Bureau of Mines production figures, the Association compilation showed that Fisher County produced crude oil valued at $17.2 million in 1966 and natural gas worth $1 million.

Texas oil production in 1967, responding to demands for more domestic crude as a result of the Israeli-Arab conflict, totaled 1,050,000,000 barrels, a statewide increase over 1966 of about 5 percent. Production last year varied widely among state Railroad Commission districts, however, ranging from 3.5 percent below 1966 to 15 percent above.

"Production from Fisher County last summer helped prevent any oil scarcity for U. S. consumers at a time when one-third of the world's supply was cut off," said Corbin J. Robertson, Houston, Association president. "We must keep in mind, however, that it may be difficult for Texas fields to sustain production in future emergencies if the discovery of new reserves continues to lag, due to lack of exploratory drilling."

The annual study showed that Fisher County ranked 66th among Texas counties in total value of its production of some 5.8 million barrels of oil and 8 billion cubic feet of natural gas.

Texas oil men, according to Rinehart's yearbook, drilled 44 wells in the county risking some $832,000. Forty-eight percent of them were dry holes, costing about $338,000.

County landowners and others with mineral interests cashed royalty checks totaling about $2.3 million during the year. Likewise, the county's flow of oil and gas generates $864,000 a year in production taxes paid by producers and royalty owners to the state treasury.

Philosopher Has A Few Remarks About College Students In Politics

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One may be out of his field in his letter this week, but that's his worry.

In this year's Presidential race I don't have any favorites, I'm like most people, wait till somebody gets elected and then see how much you can find about him that's wrong, it's more fun that way, but in all the newspapers I've been reading out here on this Johnson grass farm lately I've been noticing what looks like a new wrinkle in campaigning.

The candidates, regardless of which party they're in, are spending more and more time talking to college students, and college students are responding by taking sides themselves, this group for that candidate, another group for another, etc. This is made possible because frequently classes have been postponed while a third group holds out in the administration building until their rights have been met and they get a promise they won't have to stay in after school for wrecking the president's office.

That's college students for you. One year they're swallowing gold fish, next year politicians' promises.

I understand there's one student who is claiming the record for having swallowed 28 promises in four days, 12 from one candidate, five from another, 8 from another, and 3 from a candidate whose name he can't remember. He's due out of the infirmary in about a week. This record is expected to fall before the nomination conventions, unless the trend shifts to a different area, like seeing how many backers of a given candidate they can crowd into a telephone booth, with the candidate in the middle.

In this connection, I read a statement by an educator who said it's a healthy sign that college students are taking things seriously, but I'm afraid he hasn't been watching very closely. College students have always taken things and themselves seriously. It's just lately that the politicians have been taking them seriously.

I hope everything works out

Handsome Plant Offers Edibles

A formal herb garden is decorative and practical too. Form the edging into squares and you have individual pockets of soil for the plants.

If a free-form herb garden is more to your liking, choose a sunny location and lay the steel edging in a pattern that pleases you. It can be in the shape of a corkscrew or ever widening circles, for example. Fill in with soil and rake the surface even. Since many herbs are easy to grow from seed, choose low growing ones for the outer areas and taller herbs for the middle or central portions. Try seeds of basil and dill combined with plants of thyme, rosemary and chives.

An elegant strawberry patch is easy with steel edging. Place a circle of edging half-way in the ground and fill it with soil. Place another smaller circle in the center of the larger one in pyramid fashion. Fill that in with soil and then top it with a third layer. Plant the strawberries in each mound for a charming decorative effect.

A Letter From Daddy

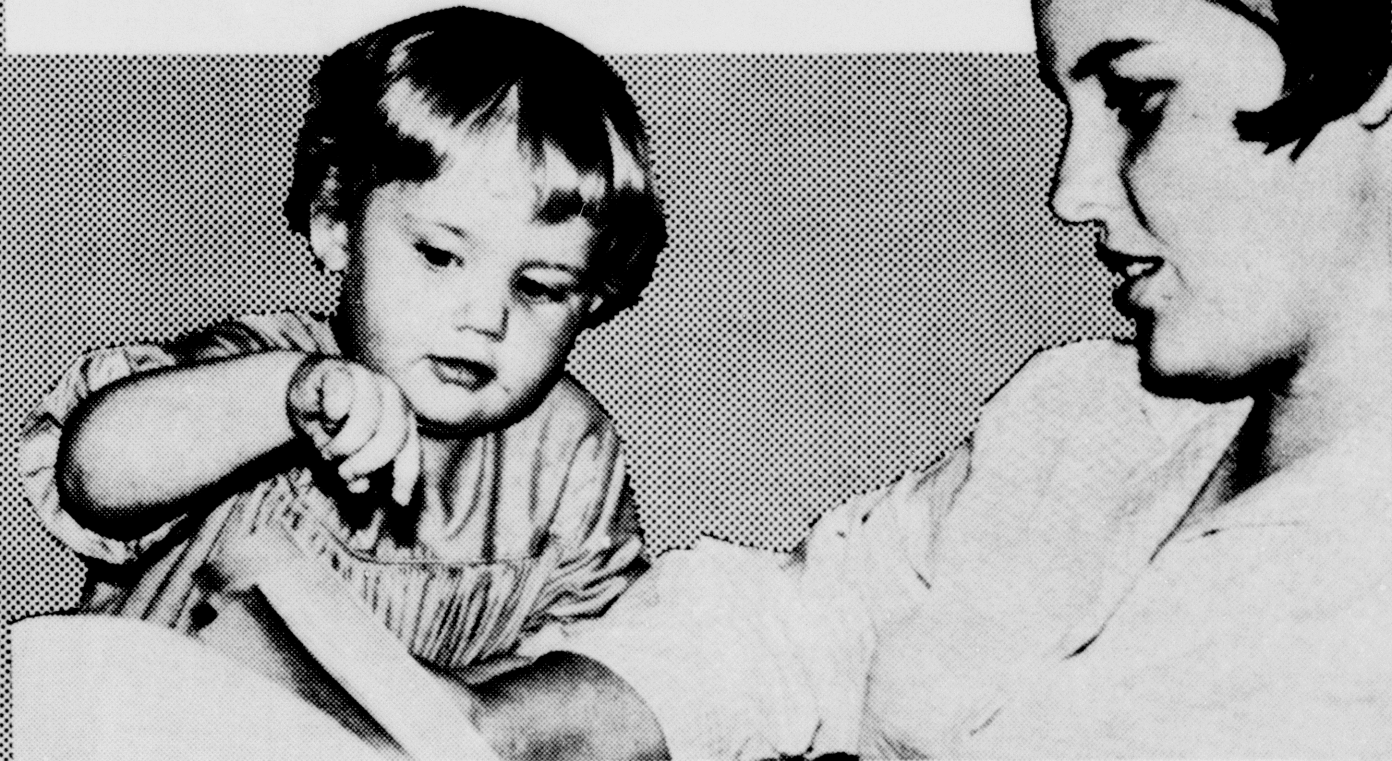

Her father has sent a letter and a picture, too, to show his family what he's doing while they are apart. It makes them feel close and it comforts them.

Our Heavenly Father has written us a love letter and given us a picture of what He is doing for us while we're apart. Both are contained in the words of the Bible.

In Jeremiah 31:3 He says, "I have loved thee with an everlasting love; therefore with loving kindness I have drawn thee."

And Our Lord tells us in John 14:2, 3, "In my Father's house are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself: that where I am, there ye may be also."

We invite you to attend church this week. You'll receive a blessing from having done so.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

From 2,700 square feet of space to 6,300 on the first floor and 4,300 square feet in the basement is a considerable jump in space. "Per square foot — the cost of operation is reasonable," Littleton says.

What Do You Tell Graduates Facing Today, Burleson Asks?

Omar Burleson, M. C.
17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D. C. — What do you say to 1968 graduates in a commencement address? Since time immemorial, graduates have been addressed pretty much along the same lines. Some speakers will tell them that the world is wonderful; that all is good; that opportunities abound all about them. Others have said that everything is bad; that there is great upheaval with all sorts of trials and tribulations ahead. Some exhort; others admonish. Some will wrap up the universe in a ball and hurl it at students and tell them to go out and clean up the mess.

It was said that pericles on annual occasions took the youth of Athens up on the hills overlooking that great city and recited to them the glories of Greece.

Socrates was probably the earliest commencement speaker over 2000 years ago. He seemed to be the Dean of advisors to the youth of that age. In these times it seems justified to stray from the conventional type of address to graduating students. We, as Americans, have seemingly always believed that we could swiftly solve all problems and set about to accomplish the task. It now appears that one thing we must learn is to have the maturity to live with problems which cannot be readily solved but rather contained and lived with.

It may be a little painful for us as individuals to come to this conclusion but, living in a more complicated and a more complex society than any age in which man has ever lived, this attitude, although hesitantly arrived at, seems to be a real fact.

It was the classic summary by Charles Dickens at the beginning of "The Tale of Two Cities," who wrote, "It was the best of times; it was the worst of times; it was the age of foolishness . . ." and then he continued, "It was the epoch of belief and doubt; the strength of hope; the weakness of despair," and we may add of our time, it is an era of brotherhood and hate, of courage and of fear.

The 1968 graduate is presented a world of opportunity and of advantages never experienced by any generation. He is given a goodly land whose frontiers were pushed back by others, who dared to move out ahead of their day, to make this Nation the wonderful place it is in which to live.

Visions of men and women of generations before, were those who believed in improving conditions around them by work and industry and with a devotion to leave a legacy for those to follow. They did not have a Federal Treasury to fall back upon and depended on no Government paternalism to destroy initiative and individualism.

On the other side of the coin, we hand to those graduates a huge public debt, all of which is not invested in capital improvements. True enough part of this debt has been, and is presently, for the defense of our Country. A part of it is for the building of institutions, for the advantages of future generations, for the preservation of our natural resources, and for scientific developments coming out of Government research, which makes life easier.

The fact means, however, that a part of this debt has been bought nothing which we can pass on to those who will soon have the responsibility of building a stronger society. At this very moment the internal security of our Nation is being threatened by the greatest wave of lawlessness and criminal activity in the 192 years of our existence as an independent Nation. Our very form of Government that is a free-enterprise structure is threatened by the insistence of conformity in the individual which fosters sterility of thought and behavior; a loss of a sense of personal responsibility, which has been the hallmark of the people who made this the greatest Nation in the world.

In Sir Walter Scott's Marmion are these lines: "When Prussia hurried to the field, and snatched the spear, but left the shield."

Is it possible that we are hurrying on the field with spear but leaving behind the shield of our national strength?

The true shield of America is not alone in its armaments and far-flung forces nor is it made up entirely of the ingenuity, inventiveness and economic potential of our people.

Rather the true shield of America consists of the rights and freedoms, and the duties which go with them, of its citizens. Rights, duties and responsibilities are but two faces of the same shield.

In the face of the graduate, who may point his finger at those of us of another generation and say, "What have you been doing about it?", the question becomes difficult to answer.

We can however, say, to him that I will join in pledging: "I will not trade freedom for beneficence nor my dignity for a handout. I will never cower before any master nor bend to any threat. It is my heritage to stand erect and proud; to think and act for myself; to enjoy the benefit of my creations and to face the world boldly and say, this I have done and this is what it means for the privilege of being an American."

SHED DIRT

If you've often wished you could take a washing machine along on your vacation, do try the next best thing: a fabric protector on the travel wardrobes of the entire family.

One well-known fabric finish, Scotchgard, is now available in handy do-it-yourself spray cans; it is said to make a world of difference in keeping vacation clothing as fresh and clean as possible all through the trip.

Spray-and-go protection means that spills remain on the surface of the treated fabric and can be easily blotted away with absorbent tissue. Greasy stains forced between fibers can almost always be removed without leaving a ring, and dirt on protected wash-and-wear fabrics washes away far more easily.

Odorless and invisible, the spray-on finish is easy to apply on all color-fast fabrics; the only requirement is that the material be clean beforehand. Simply spray thoroughly, let dry completely crowd moved about, they took part in the games offered and refreshments from the concession booth.

GOING FISHING — The fishing booth proved to be a big hit with the small fry at the Scout Fair Saturday. Paul Ray Hastings, left, watches Tony Wright, in foreground, as he pulls out his "fish." Prizes attached to the hooks behind the curtain brought smiles to the children's faces. Parents of the two youngsters are Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hastings and Mr. and Mrs. James F. Wright.

CAMPER-COOK'S BAG OF TRICKS

Space and time are at a premium and her cooking utensils must play dual roles. Necessities such as plastic wrap, paper towels and aluminum foil — tucked away in a basket, ready for each and every meal — have become mainstays of the camping kitchen.

Paper towels play a multiple role in cooking for campers because towel tricks save time and effort. The head of the household will use a sheet of paper towels over the coals. When he squirts, then lights, the charcoal starter over the paper towels, he'll find that the towels help distribute the starter evenly, making an even fire.

The lady camper uses the paper towels all around the camp. But beware the flimsy or rough kind. It pays to buy quality. Kleenex paper towels are strong enough for wiping out grease-coated skillets, pretty enough to be used as placemats at dinner time.

Kerry Jagers Is Top Scout Fair Ticket Salesman

Kerry Jagers was named top salesman at the Cub and Scout Fair held May 11. He sold 107 tickets and received a Scout suit as the top prize. Mark Fowler was next, selling 90 tickets. His prize was a badminton set.

All also received model kits.

Other Scouts receiving model kits were Gerald Rodgers, Billie Jordan, Steve Hastings, Randy Bush, Rick Craig, Gary Ford, David Moore, Mitch Wilson.

Others were Dickey Lee, Nicky Bond, Richard Dawkins, Tracy Asher, Allen Young, Phil George, Leroy Gardner, Jeffrey Witt, Danny Johnston.

Also Mike Cullen, Berry Strothers, Henry Dancer, Glenn Reed, Mike Pritchard, Ronald Crouch, Patrick Harper, Shorty McIlwain, Danny Knox, Alan Steele and Clint Wheat.

Den mothers included Mmes. Robert Fowler, Johnny Steele, Delaon Jackson, Gean Witt, Ella Nall, Jack Bessire, Charlie Turner, Coye Pritchard, James Brown, Ester Hastings, Kenneth Young and Rex Reynolds.

ARE AUTO PREMIUMS TOO HIGH?

1. Premiums are based upon insured losses—if losses go up—premiums go up—if losses go down—premiums go down.
2. Insurance companies don't pay losses—they merely distribute losses. Premiums paid by each policyholder pay a small part of other person's losses, in return all insureds share in all losses so that no one will suffer a major financial loss or bankruptcy.
3. Compulsory automobile liability insurance has been a failure, where tried. Young male drivers in Massachusetts and New York pay almost $500.00 as compared to $208.00 in Harris County, Texas.
4. Texas rates are among the lowest in the nation. There are 27 other states which have higher premiums for automobile liability insurance, even though Texas ranks sixth in number of licensed drivers in the nation, fifth in the population, third in the number of private passenger automobiles registered and first in miles of highway.
5. In Texas, the State Board of Insurance has made a study of automobiles rates over the past thirty years and found that for the same coverages if you lived in the rating territory with the greatest percentage of increase in automobile premiums, the increase would be 137%. If you lived in the territory with the least percentage of increase in premiums it would be 74% increase.
6. Yet, during the same period of time the Texas per capita income increased 590%; nationwide medical care costs increased 158%; nationwide hospital daily service charges increased 582%; Texas hospitals per patient day expense increased 232%; the nationwide consumer price index was up 134%, and the gross national product up 774%.
7. The 40¢ hair cut now costs from $1.75 to $2.25; the penny postal card is now 5¢; the standard automobile which sold for $800.00 to $1,000 in 1938 now costs $3,500 to $4,000.
8. Twenty years ago the average family spent 1.33% of their income for basic insurance coverages while today they spend 1.14% of their income. Twenty years ago policyholders worked 30.9 hours to pay for basic automobile protection—today it takes only 29.7 hours.
9. Are automobile premiums too high? No, they are based on the insured losses paid on Texas drivers.
